

Advance Entry Signals (AES)

AES is simply an addition to Daily OzFx system. It is a method of finding entry signals for pairs which are deep in their trend.

How To Identify Pairs:

Look for pairs which have moved far from 200SMA. AC for these pair stays below or above 0 line without crossing.

Why Trade Such Pairs:

These pairs are excellent in catching big long sustainable moves. Trend is your friend until it bends 😊

Entry Signals:

1. Wait for price to pull back against the trend.
2. Wait for Stot to cross in the direction of trend.
3. Wait for AC to turn green for long and red for short.

Strong Signal:

1. When AC is below 0 for short and above 0 for long.
2. When AO is the same color as new AC line.

As you can see this method is very simple and helps us get good entry points for pairs that are in a trend.
